As a parent, you must know how important Sensory Play and Baby Gym are for the growth and development of young children. However, due to the limited living environment in Hong Kong and the impact of the recent epidemic, I believe it will affect the activities planned by everyone with their children. This season, the Centre will learn together with children and parents through play. Starting from October 2023, we will regularly organize Sensory Play and Baby Gym activities for young children and their parents to enjoy together. To benefit more families, each family can participate in the activities up to four times per month. We apologize for any inconvenience caused.
